

My Personal Development Plan

The following adjectives describe my strengths as a group leader:

Three areas of leadership I can improve in are:

Additional training I should plan to get:

Coaching or mentoring that I plan to seek out (find people who are really good at what you want to grow in and study them!):

Historically, the things in life that have a tendency to drain me are:

Possible checks and balances for the above mentioned could be (discuss with mentor/coach to plan):

I feel most encouraged when (think of ways people have encouraged you in the past that meant the most to you):

A few things I would like to know more about in scripture are (list topics, books, historical events, or anything else you would like to know more about in the Bible):